

EDUCATION

Browns Lane Primary School

This is the first school built to the Ministry of Education's revised property guide for new development.

The design is innovative in that the arrangement of spaces will accommodate a variety of curriculum delivery options.

The school also features very advanced environmental design both active, where temperature, ventilation and light levels are all controlled by a central computer and passive where careful building design studies were carried out in order to maximize access to light and to reduce energy use.

Browns Lane Primary School

new school

