CITYMED PRIMARY CARE CLINIC, AUCKLAND

ASC Architects is working with a medical development group on a network of primary healthcare clinics around New Zealand. The clinics offer general practitioners rooms, plus radiology, laboratory, physiotherapy, dentistry and pharmacy services. These are designed as integrated primary care facilities, where each tenancy benefits from having the other services available alongside.

The first development, CityMED in central Auckland, is well established, and suburban Auckland and Christchurch examples are under construction. These build on our previous experience in healthcare projects for eye and dental specialists.
